My life is different from Lucas' life because there aren't so many good places to hang out in my town. My life is similar to Alex and Amy's because I get a lot of homework and often have exams too.
2 I'm lucky to live where I live because there isn't too much traffic on the road and it's a quiet, safe and peaceful place with lots of beautiful green areas.
3 Young people in my town complain that there aren't enough things for them to do and places for them to go when the weather is bad. For example, we haven't got a cinema or an indoor swimming pool.
4 I think that Sweden would be a good country for a young person to live in because I saw a TV programme about a day in the life of a Swedish school and it looked really relaxed, fun and interesting.

2 I agree. I usually ask my friends for advice because they understand my situation better than an older person can.
3 Yes, I agree that a teenager should reply immediately to the adult, because if not, the adult might think that the teenager hasn't received the message.

This photo shows a family at home. I can see four people – a man and a woman who are probably parents, and their son and daughter. They are in a living room. The daughter is lying on the floor. All the other people are sitting in front of a sofa. They are wearing jeans and T-shirts and no shoes or socks. There is a laptop on the floor, but only the mother is looking at it. I think they are having a nice time, because everyone is smiling and laughing.

I'm from Ostrava in the Czech Republic. The city is in the west of the country, about 15 kilometres from the border with Poland.

It is very different from the capital, Prague, because it is an industrial city, but it is still a very interesting place. Some of the mines are now museums, so you can find out about our history. The main square is a great place to hang out with friends. Every year we have an international music festival. It's fantastic and my friends and I love it.

Ostrava may not be a very pretty city but it's still a good place to grow up.

UNIT 2 TRY SOMETHING DIFFERENT

LEAD-IN

Possible answers

1 The girl is climbing in a forest / adventure playground.

2 I think people enjoy doing activities like this because they feel challenged and they can feel proud of themselves if they manage to complete them successfully. Also, when people do activities like this the body releases adrenalin which makes you feel energetic and alive.

3 I'd like to try rowing because I enjoy working as part of a team and I also enjoy being on the water. I'd love to try scuba diving because I'm interested in seeing the world underwater. Finally, I'd like to try skydiving because it must be an incredible feeling and this would also really challenge me as I'm a little bit frightened of heights!

READING

1 Possible answer

You can get information about things online, but with most activities, you learn by doing. Maybe it's easiest to learn about languages online, because you can find lots of reading and listening texts, and there are dictionaries. But you can't learn to speak or write online. I think sports skills are the most difficult to learn online. You can watch people doing a sport, like swimming, but you can only really learn by practising, and moving your body.

2 the text message (2)

3 1 B (It says films must be no longer than four minutes. A is incorrect: There is a prize for each age group. C is incorrect: films can be on any subject.)

2 C (Can we learn some dance moves together? A is incorrect: Tabi is sending Ellie some information about a website. B is incorrect: Tabi wants to learn some dance moves with Ellie, she doesn't ask Ellie to teach her.)

2 I admire Kyndall Harris because she says she is young but has managed to achieve her dream through hard work and determination.

3 I think I'd like to try card tricks because I would really enjoy surprising my friends.

8 Possible answers

You could watch 'How to' videos online. The advantage of this is that you can watch as many times as you like. The videos are often quite good fun too.

You could go to an evening class. The advantage of this is that you would get to meet new people.

You could get a friend to teach you. The advantage of this is that you would definitely have a lot of fun while learning (and it would probably be free too!).

VOCABULARY

1 Possible answer

I agree with my results because I think I do have what it takes to get to the top. I work very hard to get better at things, even when they are difficult for me.

6B (the collocation is do well, meaning 'succeed')

4 Possible answer

I don't think that hard work and practice is enough for a person to become really good at something. It's important to work hard, sure, but it's also important to have talent. For example, some people just can't sing. They can practise every day if they want, but it's a waste of time because they will never be able to sing well.

8 Possible answer
A lot of people in my class are interested in taking photographs, so I think that a photography club would be a really good idea. We would meet in the art department once a week. Every meeting we could decide on a theme (like family, free time, sunsets, etc.) and then we could go out and take photos on the theme. Maybe we could ask one of the art teachers at school to help us. At the end of the year we could exhibit our photos in the school.

8 Possible answer
A: OK, shall we start with chess? Would a chess club be a good idea?
B: No. In my opinion, not many people like chess. I sometimes play at home, but a lot of people think it's boring.
A: Yes, I agree. It would be nice to have something more active, like tennis maybe. What do you think about that?
B: Yes, a lot of people like tennis. But I think most people already go to the sports centre if they want to play tennis.
A: That's true. And you can get better lessons at the sports centre. I guess it's the same for swimming, too.
B: Yes, I agree. And swimming is quite serious. I mean, I think it would be nice to have something that's really fun. An exercise class like this one might be more fun, and it's something that everyone can join in with.
A: Yes, I think that would be fun! Or what about a music club? A school rock band would be cool. Don't you think so?
B: Yes, that would be amazing! That's something that people can't do on their own at home. The music teachers here could help, and maybe they could do a show at the end of term.
A: Yes, good idea. What do you think about a homework club? I guess some people might be interested in that?
B: I'm not sure. I wouldn't like it, and I think most other people wouldn't like it. A club should be something fun, I think. What about cooking? I would like to learn to cook. That's a useful skill.
A: Yes, that's true. And it would be fun to learn how to make nice food. Maybe at the end of each class everyone could eat their food together?
B: Yes, I like that idea.
A: So, it's time to decide. What do you think?
B: Well, I would choose either cooking or a music club. What do you think?
A: Yes, I agree they're both good ideas. Maybe the cooking is better because that's something that everyone can do. With the music club, not everyone can play an instrument or sing.
B: Yes, that's true. And it's also a useful skill for life. And it would be fun to cook and eat meals together.
A: OK. Let's go for that one, then.

It's a good hobby because it helps me practise lots of skills: writing, photography and, of course, cooking. It's important that I practise these skills because one day I would like to be a famous food writer or chef! In fact, I'm writing a cookery book at the moment …
Blogging also helps me make friends from all over the world! I get lots of nice comments on my blog.

INDEPENDENT LEARNING

2 Possible answers

I enjoyed some of the speaking activities on page 27 because I like discussing things with other people, and there was lots of useful language for me to use.

The final writing task on page 29 was difficult, because it was difficult for me to use the grammar correctly, and I made lots of mistakes at first.

4 Possible answers

To remember the language, I could try writing down words on post-it notes, and putting them on the walls around my room. When I have remembered the words, I can take the notes down.

To practise writing, I could try looking at model pieces of writing, and looking at the words and grammar the writer used, and how the writer organised the information.

7 Model answer

Hi,

You want to know about my free time. After school I'm usually quite tired. I do my homework, then I often relax and play computer games or I sometimes watch a film. On Wednesday evenings I go to gymnastics club. That's really good fun! I love doing gymnastics. At the moment, I'm trying to learn how to walk on my hands. At the weekend I always see my friends.

We sometimes go to the cinema together, or we go shopping in town. I'm really interested in music, too. At the moment, I'm trying to learn how to play the guitar. I'm not having lessons, but I watch a lot of videos online. It's difficult, but I'm making progress!

Write soon,

Sam

UNIT 3 READ ALL ABOUT IT

LEAD-IN

Possible answers

1 As a child, my favourite story was Goldilocks and the Three Bears. My mum and dad had to read it to me every night and I knew it off by heart!

2 I actually do quite a lot of reading on my phone when I'm travelling. I also download audiobooks which I enjoy listening to at night time – it helps me get to sleep.

3 I think we enjoy stories because when we read them, we can travel to different places and meet different people – we don't even need to leave our home!

READING

1 1 C

2 Possible answer

I'd like to read the story about the woman being rescued by her dog, as I love animals and I enjoy reading stories about them – and this sounds like a happy story!

2 Possible answer

I think it's a story about a family who went travelling around the world by train and by boat, starting in England. The train in the photos also looks a little like the Hogwarts Express – so maybe something magical happened!

4 1G (explains why in the next sentence it says they had to get to the house on foot or by water)

5 1 see Ex 4 answer key above

2B (gives more information about the inside of the cottage)

3A (links to the word officers in the following paragraph)

4F (explains how the location of the line can help the police rescue the family)

5D (explains the children's reaction to the train; them and they in following sentence relate back to children)

6 1 remote 2 tied up 3 flowing 4 stuck 5 pick them up 6 stuff

7 Possible answers

The parents: We were so excited about going on holiday to Scotland, but when we arrived at the cottage we did feel a bit worried. It was so remote! When we woke up and realised the house was under water and the canoe had gone, we felt very worried, but we didn't want to frighten the children so we tried not to panic. We just phoned the police and spoke to them calmly. When the train arrived, we were so happy to see it that we didn't realise it was the train from Hogwarts. We didn't understand why our children were jumping up and down and screaming with happiness!

The children: That was the best holiday ever. What an adventure! We will never forget waking up and being surrounded by water. The best bit was when the train came to pick us up. It was like a dream seeing the Hogwarts train coming towards us, and the view from the train was just like the scenery you see in the Harry Potter films.

The police officers: The weather in this part of Scotland can be very wet and cold. We often get emergency calls from people who are in trouble. Well, when the Cluett family called us, we felt so sorry for them – the mother sounded so worried! We knew they had children with them so we decided to organise something they would never forget.

The train staff: When the police called us and asked us to make an extra stop, we were very happy to say 'yes'. The children were so happy, it was great to see their little faces! This really is the most beautiful train and the most wonderful train journey in the world, so it's good to share it with visitors to the country.

8 Possible answers

1 I think it sounds exciting! I would like to go somewhere like this. I really love remote places and peace and quiet, so this would be heaven for me.

2 Yes, I have. Once, I went to visit my grandmother in the mountains. It snowed during the night, and we couldn't leave the next day. We had to wait for the roads to clear. I didn't mind because I like staying with my grandmother!

3 I think rescue stories are often in the news because they have happy endings! People feel good when they read or hear about them.

Suddenly, the other boy's mother came and sat down next to me. She thought I was her son so she started talking to me, telling me I was a good boy! When my own mum returned, the lady was really embarrassed. Now, I always tell my mum she should tell me what a good boy I am!

In the end, she had to call the fire brigade!

WRITING

I think that a forest is an exciting location for a short story, because you could have magical animals living in the trees or it could be a haunted forest – there are so many possibilities! I also think a beach is a good place for a short story because you could write a story about holidays, about treasure or even about a shipwreck …

2 Possible answers

9 Possible answer

My room was a room in a cottage. There was no one else there, and it felt like no one lived there. It was silent. I could smell something delicious. It was coming from the kitchen …

11 Model answer

I walked into the room and started to smile. My family and friends were there and they all had huge smiles on their faces too. Everyone was saying 'Congratulations!' and 'Well done!' Why? Well, I was the winner of an athletics competition and everyone wanted to see my gold medal. It wasn't real gold, of course, but my parents were still very proud. While I was wearing the medal, everyone took photos and asked me questions. All I really wanted to do was eat because I was starving after my race. I had my favourite dinner after everyone left. And I went to bed exhausted but delighted.

I was looking online when I found an interesting news story. A Russian pilot lost nearly 200 gold and silver blocks that he was carrying on his plane. He was taking off from an airport in Siberia when a door flew open and the metal blocks fell out. It was raining gold and silver! Each block weighed about 20kg and together they were worth millions of pounds. The police immediately closed the area to stop people from taking the valuable metal. A video of the event appeared on social media and the news went round the world. The police are investigating the accident. Someone from the company who owns the metal said they have found all of the blocks.

UNIT 4 LIVE AND LEARN

LEAD-IN

1 Friends: skills such as bicycle tricks or football skills; how to style your hair; how to dress well; if they have a special hobby (such as horse-riding) they can teach you how to do it.

Parents or grandparents: cooking; good manners; how to behave with other people; traditional craft and woodwork skills, life skills such as cleaning and tidying, how to look after money

Teachers: subjects such as English, maths, etc.; how to give presentations; how to write an application for university; how to behave appropriately in class; group work skills

2 Possible answer

The most enjoyable thing I learned to do this year was scuba-diving. I took a diving course on holiday and it was amazing. The hardest thing I've learned to do this year was to play the trombone. I've just started and it's really difficult!

READING

1 Possible answers

I study English, maths, computer studies, history, geography, science, art and business studies.

I would like to study photography (we don't do this in art) and I would also like to learn film-making. I think it'd be good if there was a subject about how to use social media correctly, as this is something which causes people a lot of problems in their lives.

2 C

3 Repairing furniture and recycling paper are mentioned in the text. There are also photos of baking and growing fruit and vegetables.

4 1 B 2 D 3 C 4 A

1 B (A – the text mentions that students can make money for their schools, but it doesn't mention that schools need more money; C – students don't make money for themselves; D – the text doesn't say she was running her own business)

2 D (they planted more trees. A – businesses were cutting down a lot of trees, but the project didn't stop this; B – the project encouraged other people to use less paper, but it doesn't mention whether the students themselves used less paper; C – the project taught people that recycling is important, but it doesn't mention whether everyone accepted this or not)

3 C (A – the text doesn't mention how much money the students make; B – the competition helps students learn how to run a business; D – students learn how to manage a team of people, but the text doesn't mention that students can work individually or as a team.)

4 A (B – the text mentions travelling, but doesn't say that she wouldn't enjoy it; C – she would have to choose the winners, but the text doesn't say that this would be difficult; D – the text mentions that judges visit schools, but doesn't say that there won't be time to visit many)

5 B (she talks about what students can learn from the experience and also how schools and communities can gain from the competition; A – Alison is not a teacher now, and she doesn't talk about why teaching is important. She doesn't talk about how the SEC can help teachers; C – she mentions why she stopped teaching, but she doesn't work for the School Enterprise Challenge yet – she talks about what students can learn from the experience; D – she doesn't say how she became a teacher, and she doesn't teach students how to run their own business)

6 1 start 2 make 3 run 4 open 5 develop 6 manage

7 Possible answer

It's a competition for schools to start and run their own businesses. Students learn about business and they also get to help their local community. It's not really about making money for yourself – it's more about gaining important life skills.

8 Possible answers

1 Our business would be a shoe-polishing business.

2 We would start the business by going around houses in the area, asking people if they have any tins of polish they could give us. We would collect old cloths from around our houses. We would use the polish and the cloths as our tools to start offering a shoe-polishing service around the school.

3 I think we could make a lot of money. Once teachers see their colleagues with really shiny shoes, they will want the same for themselves. After we've done the shoes around the school, we could move on to our local area.

4 We would spend the money on getting a professional gardener to help us get the school yard looking nicer, so that it is a greener and more relaxing place to spend break times.

My partner's school days start at 10 a.m. and finish at 3 p.m. He's going to study art every morning for two hours and then he's going to study music for the rest of the day. Lunch is at one o'clock and he has another small break at 2 p.m. It sounds like a nice day to me!

VOCABULARY

7 1 making 2 teach 3 do 4 give 5 mind 6 take

8 Possible answer

I had a maths exam one day. I got up really early so that I was there in good time. When I got to the place where the exam was, there was no one there. I waited and waited, but no one came. I didn't have my mobile phone with me, because we were told we weren't allowed to bring phones to our exam. After an hour of waiting I went home. Later on, I found out that the exam was in a different building. I'd missed it! I really learned from my mistake that day. Now I always check and double-check the time and place of exams.

LISTENING

1 Possible answer

We think students needed to learn different skills in school in the past. In the past it was more important to learn maths and spelling and to learn facts, for example, but now we have computer programs and websites to do all of these things. Instead we have to learn how computers work, so we can use those programs. We still need maths and spelling, but just a different type!

We think schools are changing now because robots are going to do a lot of the jobs we do now. So schools need to teach new skills like how to work together in teams, how to solve problems, etc. They are beginning to do these things already.

2 All the ideas are mentioned. C is correct because the boy says: It was good that we all talked about the subject together … and the girl agrees: Yeah, that was really interesting. So this is the only thing they both enjoyed.

3 2 B (A – the boy says that homework in the past wasn't easy, and the girl agrees; C – she says that homework takes more time now)

3 A (He says they are lucky that teachers take them on trips like this, and he wants to go again; B – he says the final score was 2–2, which wasn't bad. He says some people were disappointed, but he was glad his team didn't lose; C – he says some people behaved badly and the teachers were angry, but he doesn't say that he was angry)

4 B (A – she suggests changing instruments, but the boy tells her not to; C – the boy doesn't mention practising more, and the girl says she can't practise any more)

5 C (A – the boy says people will learn the same subjects, and the girl agrees; B – the girl says schools might be bigger, but the boy disagrees)

1 will learn 2 won't change 3 might be 4 may not allow

5 1 won't be 2 will be 3 will do 4 won't have 5 will study 6 will check 7 may/might have 8 may/might not get

6 Possible answers

I agree that we won't have big classes. I think it's true that students will study on their own on tablets, but we won't study at home all the time. I think there may be a shorter school day, and that students will get more homework to do in their own time. We might study different subjects – for example, I think all students will need to do a course in Dealing with Robots! I don't think we'll have computer chips inside our head, though!

SPEAKING

1 Possible answers

I see my friends at weekends and maybe about twice during the school week.

We usually meet at one of our houses. Then we go to the park or to a café.

Sometimes we go for a walk, but mostly we just sit and chat about things. Sometimes we even do homework or study together!

2 Possible answer

They are probably in a café.

We know for sure that there are five young people – three girls and two boys – and they are sitting around a table. They are drinking fruit juice and they have books with them. One boy is showing the others his tablet.

We can guess that they are school friends, and he is showing them some photos or maybe he is showing them a funny clip on the internet. They may be working on a school assignment.

4 1 There are 2 might 3 probably 4 look 5 right 6 maybe

5 Possible answer

There are a lot of people in this photo. It's probably a café because there are tables, and glasses on the tables. Around the table at the front of the picture, there are three teenage boys. Two of them are looking at one phone. Maybe it's funny because the boy on the left is smiling. The boy on the right is looking interested. The other boy, at the front of the picture, is also checking his phone. The boys are wearing relaxed clothes – hats and T-shirts, and one boy has on a shirt. The boys in the background are wearing similar clothes and look a similar age. Some of them are standing up – maybe they're playing a game.

WRITING

1 Possible answers

1 I think a school exchange would be really good for your language skills. I also think that going on an exchange could help you to become more confident and independent. It's good to learn about schools in other countries and how they are different to your own.

2 One problem is that students might get homesick. They might not like the food, or the weather might make it difficult for them to enjoy themselves. If they weren't with their friends they might feel lonely.

9 Model answer

Hi Sam,

It's great to hear from you, and I'm really looking forward to seeing you next week. I think we'll have fun together. The weather here is quite warm, so you don't need to bring a winter coat. But it might rain, so bring an umbrella. My mum and dad love chocolates, so you could bring them some chocolates from your country. They would love that. Yes, I'm going to come on the exchange visit to England. It's on 24 May and I'm really excited about it!

See you soon,

Ed

4 Possible answers

The purpose of the school swap was to give students the chance to see a different side to school life and to learn from the different students they came into contact with.

Yes, I'd like to do a school swap because it would be really interesting to compare my own school experience with what other students have; No, I wouldn't like to do a school swap because I'm really happy with my school and I don't want to leave my friends and teachers behind!

7 Possible arguments

For: homework causes a lot of stress; it's good to have your teachers and other students nearby if you need help with something; it's good for students to leave school and have time to do sport or focus on other activities

Against: a long day is too tiring; you learn important skills from doing homework; it's important to have more time to spend with your family; it's more comfortable doing homework at home; it's easier to focus

6 Possible answers
Student A
In this photo, I can see a girl. She probably likes jewellery because she's looking at some necklaces. She looks happy, so maybe she is going to buy one that she likes. The necklaces probably aren't expensive, because they are outside the shop on the street. It looks sunny and warm, because the girl isn't wearing a coat and she has sunglasses on her head. There are earrings on the wall inside the shop – the girl might go inside the shop to look at those next.
Student B
There is a boy in the picture who is in a clothes shop. He is probably around 16. He's wearing a green T-shirt and a grey hat, but it isn't a warm hat so I don't think it's cold. He's talking to a woman who looks like his mother. She is holding a pair of jeans. They both look happy. Maybe the boy is asking his mother to buy the jeans for him. The mother looks like she is happy to buy them for him.

WRITING

1 Possible answer
I'd look for positive reviews online from other people who have bought the same product. I might also listen to advice from my older sister or from my mum.
I wouldn't trust sales assistants. Reviewers are usually honest, but sales assistants will usually say the product is good because they want to sell it.
If my best friend already has this product, then I want to buy it too because I know she has good taste!

Great shoes for real runners!
I've just bought a pair of Strike running shoes. I was keen to try them because quite a lot of the sporty people I know wear them and I think they look great!
The best thing about these running shoes is how comfortable they are. I feel like I can run for hours!
It's a shame that they're so expensive, but if you run a lot, then they're probably worth it. The only other problem is that they look a little different from the photo on the website – the colour is much brighter.
On the whole, I think this product is expensive but worth it if you love running. I'd recommend them!

I'm interested in fashion but I wear the same clothes as a lot of people my age: jeans, trainers and tops. I like to make my clothes look a bit different by putting bright colours together. 5 B (the article gives three examples of how parks use empty land and bring different benefits to people; A – he doesn't say that parks aren't as good as real countryside; C – he doesn't mention the cost of building the Jardín del Turia or the Underpass Park, and he doesn't mention any problems they cause; D – all the examples he gives say that people use the parks)

6 1 empty 2 wild 3 colourful 4 social 5 cool 6 peaceful

7 Possible answer
There's a small park in my neighbourhood that I really like. A lot of teenagers go there, so it's important for people's social lives. It isn't very colourful, but it's nice and cool when it's hot in the summer. It's usually empty during the week, so it's quite peaceful, but it's very busy at the weekends, and sometimes it's noisy if there are a lot of young kids there.

8 Possible answer
I would love to visit the Underpass Park in Toronto because it looks like a fun place for teenagers. It looks like a good place for riding a skateboard.

9 Possible answer
There's an old railway line near our school. It's in a quiet place, so it would be peaceful. We could change it into a park like the High Line, with social places to sit and chat and also a skate park.

My animal is a 'wolf bird'. It is very big and fierce, and it has sharp teeth and fur on its body. It also has wings, and it hunts for food by flying around and catching animals on the ground.

SPEAKING

1 Possible answers

Yes, I sometimes go camping with my family. I enjoy it because it's fun to sleep in a tent and to be able to hear everything just outside your tent.

2 Possible answers

Advantages: it's peaceful; you can enjoy being in the countryside; you have a feeling of freedom; you don't have to worry about reaching a specific destination; it's free

Disadvantages: there is no electricity so no light or heat; there are no facilities like showers or toilets; you might feel lonely; there might be wild animals; there is no one there to help if you have an accident

3 Mentioned in the audio:

Advantages: it's quiet (campsites are noisy and crowded); you can see the stars at night; you can watch the sun coming up; you have a feeling of freedom

Disadvantages: you have to carry your tent, food and water; you have to carry your rubbish with you; you have to choose a safe place to camp; it isn't fun washing your face in a cold mountain stream

4 They choose in a forest because they'll be safe from the wind, and they can find wood to make a fire.

8 Possible answer

A: So, we need to think about the best way for her to spend time outside. What do you think about camping?
B: Well, some people enjoy it, but not everyone likes it, so it might not be fun, especially if the weather's bad.
A: Yes, that's true. And I'm not sure about hiking up mountains. You have to be quite fit to do that, and it can be dangerous if you get lost.
B: Yes, I agree. I think cycling on good roads or paths is better. What do you think?
A: Yes. Cycling is active but if she goes on good paths then she will be safe. I don't like the idea of just sitting on a balcony in a hotel, looking at the countryside. That doesn't look like fun to me.
B: You're right. I guess you can relax in a hotel, but you don't get the feeling of being outside in the wild. What do you think about the idea of painting?
A: Well, I'm sure it's interesting for some people, but what if she isn't good at art? Then it wouldn't be fun at all.
B: Yes, I think so, too. It definitely doesn't look like fun to me, and I think reading is a bit boring.
A: I agree. I think it's better to be active. What do you think about running?
B: It's a good way to be active, but the problem is you're so tired you can't enjoy the beautiful scenery!
A: That's true. So cycling is probably better?
B; Yes. If you're cycling, you're active and you can really enjoy the countryside.
A: So shall we agree on going cycling?
B: Yes, I think that's the best idea of them all.

9 Possible answers

1 I enjoy cycling in the countryside because the roads are quiet and there isn't much traffic. I also enjoy hiking because you can see lots of places that are far away from roads and people.
2 Where we live, I think summer is definitely the best time to visit the countryside because the weather's nice and everything is green. In the winter it's too cold and the countryside doesn't look as nice.
3 Personally, I think visiting a city is more interesting because there are lots of different things to do, like visiting museums and going to the cinema. There are also lots of nice restaurants and cafés. The countryside is beautiful, but it's also a bit boring in my opinion.

WRITING

1 Possible answers

I'd like to visit the desert the most. I've never been anywhere like that, and I would like to experience it. It might be dangerous, so I might need a guide. My partner said she wasn't interested in going to the desert because she thought it would be boring – instead the beach was her number one choice, because there's lots to do there. Our answers were quite different.

8 wild, high, clear, amazing, lovely, cool, peaceful, loud, busy, calm
9 1 looks 2 feel 3 sound 4 feels
11 Model answer
I like to visit beaches. There are quite a lot of beaches near me, and I often go to them. I love playing on the beach with my friends or family on a sunny day. When the weather is good, the water is clear and blue. There is an island about a kilometre away from the coast, which looks amazing on a good day.
For me, it's important to be in the fresh air. The city is often crowded, and there is a lot of pollution. The countryside often feels calm and it's healthy to spend time there.

INDEPENDENT LEARNING

1 Possible answers
1 I enjoyed learning the present simple and present continuous because I can understand this well. I found articles difficult because there are a lot of rules.
2 Vocabulary about appearance and animals were the most interesting for me.
3 I found the words for animals easy to remember because they are quite similar in my native language.
4 Possible extra tips
Keep a note of mistakes you often make with grammar, and focus on correcting them.
Look at reading texts from the units again to find extra grammar examples, and try to understand why tenses, articles, etc. are used in these contexts.
Write new words on cards and put them on the wall in your room, to help you learn them.
Have a 'word of the day' every day – one word that you try to learn, remember and ideally use that day.

My favourite animal is the kangaroo. Kangaroos live in Australia, and they have soft brown fur. They have very small front legs and huge back legs. They use their powerful back legs to jump instead of running. They also have a long tail. They are quite peaceful animals. They don't hunt other animals for food – they just eat grass and leaves. They have a special small bag on the front of their body where they carry their babies. I like them because they have very cute faces, and they also look quite funny when they jump along the ground.

Our pop-up café is called the Homework Café. We will serve drinks, snacks, sandwiches and homemade cakes. 6 Possible answers

Student A

This photo shows some people outside, in a forest. There are four people in the photo – one adult, one teenager and two younger children. I think they might be a dad and his three children. They are wearing T-shirts, so it's probably summer, and there are some things behind them. I don't know the word, but it's something you sleep in when you're camping, so I think they're on a camping holiday. Two of the children are cooking something on the fire. They're holding something. It looks like a long stick, and it's something you use for cooking food. I don't know what they're cooking. Maybe it's a type of meat. They all look very relaxed and happy.

Student B

This photo shows three people in a kitchen – one girl and two boys. I think they're cooking something. The girl and one of the boys are wearing something over their clothes. I don't know the word, but it looks like a dress and it's something you use to keep your clothes clean when you're cooking. In front of the boys there's a piece of meat and some things for cutting it. There are also some vegetables, so I think they might be making dinner. The girl has a frying pan, I think, so maybe she's stirring something. They are all smiling and they look very happy.

Dear Ms Roberts,

What a great idea to have a food festival. I'm more than happy to offer some ideas.

I think it would be a good idea to have foods which we know teenagers like, like pizza and burgers. But I'd say it's important to have food for people who eat meat and for vegetarians too.

How about having some music for people to listen to? We could ask the school band to play – everyone likes them. And what about playing rounders too? It's a fun team game which everyone can get involved in.

It's very kind of you to invite me to the festival, but I'm afraid I won't be here that weekend.

Best wishes,

Sara

I found the listening in Unit 4 easy because there were five different situations and it was quite easy to understand what was happening. I found the multiple choice listening task in Unit 3 difficult because the recording is long and it was easy to get lost.

3 Possible answers

difficult vocabulary, long recordings, people speak quickly, there are too many details, lots of 'distractors' in exam tasks

4 Possible extra tips

the teacher/classmates: Ask someone to repeat something if you don't understand.

Ask someone to speak more slowly.

recordings in class:Read the questions carefully before you listen, as this can help with vocabulary and general meaning.

Listen for the speakers' intonation, for example they might say important words with more emphasis.

videos online:Watch more than once, because you will understand more each time you watch.

Listen for important words, and ignore small words and phrases that are not important, e.g. you know, like, you know what I mean?

And these machines worked really hard. One robot was making a Japanese dish and another was mixing drinks. A robot waiter took our order and 10 minutes later we were eating lunch. The food was nice but not really delicious. But it wasn't a problem because we had a fantastic experience. I took lots of photos and there's a selfie of me with the robot chef! 2 No, I wouldn't enjoy this kind of holiday because I like to go to warm countries for my holidays, so I can go to the beach and swim in the sea.

3 Yes, I went to Morocco once. It was very hot during the day so we couldn't do very much, but it was cooler in the evenings.

Our summer camp is called Water Everywhere. It's by the sea and you can do sailing, canoeing and water-skiing. There's a fantastic beach, and there are lots of fun activities on the beach, like volleyball and football. In the evenings, there are quizzes and karaoke. The food is really nice, and sometimes there's a barbecue on the beach. The accommodation is really nice. There are rooms for one or two people, and you have your own bathroom.

3 Tom: phone (I can call my family if I need to and I can get online to chat to my friends); guidebook (It's the best way to find interesting things to do); paper (for drawing)

5 They choose the T-shirt because his friends can sign it and make it personal.

6 1 talked about, decide on 2 would choose 3 choice 4 both 5 happy with

7 B

9 Possible answer

A: So, we want to help the girl feel welcome, so let's think about the best activity. What do you think about a tour of the city?

B: Well, I guess it's nice to see a new city when you arrive, so you don't get lost. But not everyone likes looking at old monuments and things. I think it might not be very interesting for her.

A: Yes, I agree. And I'm not sure about shopping. Some people love shopping, but other people hate it. She might not be into fashion, and of course she might not have much money.

B: Yes, that's true. I hate shopping too, so it's a really bad idea for me! The cinema might be fun.

A: Well, everyone likes watching films, but the problem is you don't get a chance to chat very much. I think it's better to have an activity where she can talk to lots of people and start to make friends. Something like a barbecue or picnic, or an evening at someone's house.

B: Yes, I agree. A picnic's good fun, but of course it depends on the weather. If the weather's nice, it's great, but it's not much fun if it's cold.

A: That's true. And it's expensive if everyone has to buy food and drinks. It's the same for a barbecue.

B: Yes, and a barbecue is quite a lot of work to organise. I think an evening at home is better because it doesn't cost any money, so everyone can come and join in. And it's easy to chat, so she can get to know everyone and make friends.

A: So, we've talked about all the activities now, shall we decide on the best one?

B: Yes. I would choose the evening at home, because it's easy to organise and it's a good way to get to know people.

A: Yes, I agree with you. We both think that's a good idea, so shall we choose that one?

B: Yes, let's choose that one.

10 Possible answers

1 Yes, I have. Last year I went on a school trip and I forgot to take my phone charger. I was really upset because I use my phone all the time. But luckily, my friend's charger worked for my phone too, so it was OK.

2 I'd like to visit New York because I've seen it in a lot of movies and I think it's a really exciting city. I really hope I can go there one day.

3 I think people enjoy it because when you are away from home you can forget all about your stress and work, and you can really relax and have fun. Also, people like going to a nice sunny place, especially if they live in a cold country.

We arrived at our hotel and went to the reception desk. I was excited, because I was in London with my family, to visit our cousins.

The hotel was new and very comfortable. The receptionist asked for our name, then she looked at her computer screen for a long time and kept making notes. While she was doing this, I was beginning to worry there might be a problem with the booking. A few moments later, my dad asked, 'Is everything OK?'

Suddenly, the receptionist smiled. 'Yes, it's fine,' she said happily. 'You are the one thousandth guests in our hotel, so you've won £500 to spend during your visit. Congratulations!'

Hi,

I'm at a summer camp in Ireland and it's amazing. I've been here for two weeks now, and I've got one more week before I come home. The camp is quite big and really friendly, so I've made lots of new friends. There are plenty of different activities to try every day, and there are also fun activities in the evening, like quizzes and shows. I've already done mountain biking, which was exciting, and I've tried diving in the lake – that was fun! I haven't tried climbing yet, but I want to do that next week.

See you soon,

UNIT 9 WHAT'S YOUR IDEA OF FUN?

LEAD-IN

Possible answers

1 I think they're at a fair.

2 Yes, I love going to the fair because it's fun. You can go on different rides. Some of the rides are scary, and some rides make you laugh.

3 I like going to the fair or an amusement park with my friends, and I also like spending time at home with them, playing computer games or watching a movie.

READING

1 Possible answers

1 The word screenager is made from the words screen and teenager. It was probably invented because teenagers spend a lot of time looking at screens.

2 Yes, social media is important because it helps to connect people to each other.

3 Someone might miss out on events like parties, and also the chance to make friends with people.

2 1 C (Do you fancy watching a movie at my house …?)

2 A (Students must turn off their phones … including breaks and the lunch hour)

3 B (We know because Jo says, 'Why not give it a go?' and Craig says, 'If you switch off your phone today, you won't lose all your friends', so they are both talking to other teenagers.)

4 1 A (If their phone doesn't beep every two seconds, they get worried. If they're bored, they pick up their mobile. It's how they communicate, spend free time and have fun; B, C and D – Jo mentions these topics but not in the ways expressed in B, C and D)

5 2 D (And my life is so full I don't have time to sit around messaging people; A – she doesn't say she meets them more often, only that she arranges to meet them; B – she says she doesn't think she's missing out; C – she says she already feels more independent)

3 B (I like to make up my own mind and not think the same as everyone else; A – his friends are on social media; C – he talks about selfie likes, not too many selfies; D – he says he doesn't need an app to organise them)

4 C (If I need a phone in the future, of course I'll get one; A – he says he sees the same people on social media, not new friends; B – he says they should be used to plan entertainment, and that they shouldn't be the entertainment; D – he doesn't mention this)

5 C (This is the only sentence that accurately describes Jo and Craig as former users of social media who have now chosen not to use it.)

6 1 beep 2 staring 3 arrange 4 give it a go 5 download

7 Possible answers

I think Jo is confident, because she doesn't care what her friends say. She's also interesting because she does a lot of things like designing her own clothes. I think Craig is a bit old-fashioned because he doesn't really understand how useful social media is.

8 Possible answers

1 A It isn't much fun because you can't relax when you are always waiting for another message.

B I don't care because it's more important to spend time with your real friends.

2 I agree with Jo that I'm very busy, so I don't have time to worry about social media. I don't agree with Craig about his phone, because I think it's important to have a phone so you can talk to your friends.

3 No, I don't think I'm a screenager because I don't spend too much time on my phone.

2 the clothes stand in photo B
3 the blanket in photo A
4 the ripped jeans on the girl with the pink top in photo B
5 the cow-shaped bag in photo B
6 the rug in photo A

6 Model answers

Photo A

This photo shows a teenage boy in a room. I think it might be his bedroom, and he's sitting on the bed. The room is quite small. The walls are white, and there are a few posters. The room isn't very tidy. There are lots of things on his bed and on the right, next to the bed, there's a bike with only one wheel. I think maybe he's going to mend it. The boy is holding a controller and I think he's probably playing a computer game. He looks quite serious, so I think he's concentrating on his game.

Photo B

This photo shows two girls in a bedroom. I think they're probably friends, and I guess the bedroom belongs to one of the girls. The room is small, but it's quite bright. The walls are yellow and green, and there are lots of posters and photographs on the walls. On the left there are some clothes hanging up, and also something that looks like a cow. I think it might be a bag. There are some cushions on the bed, and it looks very comfortable. The two girls are sitting together on the bed. The girl on the right has a laptop on her knees, and both the girls are looking at it and laughing. Maybe they're watching a film, or looking at some photos. They look very happy and relaxed.

Photo C

In this photo I can see three girls. I think they are probably friends. They're inside, maybe in one of the girls' bedrooms. They're sitting together, maybe on the bed, but I can't see very well, and they seem to be watching a film. It's quite dark, so I guess it's in the evening. The girl in the middle is sitting with her legs in front of her, and she's got a big bowl of popcorn on her knees. She's got some popcorn in her hands, and I think she's going to eat it. The girl on the right is wearing a yellow T-shirt. She's laughing and she looks very happy. The girl on the left is wearing a pink T-shirt. She's lying on her front, with her head up, to watch the film. They all look very happy so I guess it's a good film.

7 Model answers

Student A

This photo shows four girls. They're inside a room and I think it's probably a school because I can see some notices on the walls. Also, the girls are all wearing white shirts, so I think maybe that's their school uniform. I think they might be in a music room at the school because there's a piano. The girls are playing music together. The girl on the left is playing the piano, and I think maybe she's singing too because her mouth is open. Next to her, there's a girl with long, blonde hair. She's sitting down and she's playing a drum. Next to her a girl is standing up. She's got long dark hair and she's playing a red guitar. On the right, the fourth girl isn't playing an instrument, but she's wearing headphones and she's singing. The girls all look happy and I think they're having fun.

Student B

In this photo I can see four teenage boys., They are in the garage of a house, and they're playing music together. I think they play together as a band, so maybe they're practising. Three of the boys are playing electric guitars. The boy on the right is also singing. He's got a microphone, and he's singing into that. The other two boys also have microphones, but I don't think they are singing at the moment. Behind them, I can see the fourth boy, and he's playing the drums. I think one of the boys probably lives in the house, and I guess his parents are very kind to let the boys practise here! At the front of the photo there are two things for making the sound louder, so I hope the music is good, or it might not be fun for the neighbours!

7 Possible answers

Shall we meet at the bus stop?

How about meeting at my house?

We could meet outside the amusement park.

8 Possible answers

We could meet at 9.30, then we can be at the amusement park when it opens at 10.00.

Why don't we meet at 10.00 so we don't have to get up too early? We can get the 10.38 bus from outside my house.

Shall we meet at 10.30, because we'll still have plenty of time to spend at the amusement park?

Hi Kim,

Thanks for your message. That's great news. I haven't been to Adventures but I've heard it's fantastic.

I'd love to come to the park with you this weekend. Saturday is better for me because my grandparents are coming to visit on Sunday, so I have to be at home.

It's good that there's a choice of places to eat. I'd rather go to the Chinese restaurant because it's a bit different.

Shall we meet in the town centre? We can both get there by bus. If we meet at 9.00, we'll have time to look round the shops first.

See you soon,

Jack

I think families didn't watch TV or movies together because they didn't really have them. Maybe they played more games together. I don't think they did sports together though.

Hi Chris,

Did you have a good weekend? I had a great time on Saturday. I went to a basketball match with my older brother. It was the final of a competition and my school was playing against another local team. The sports hall was completely full and everyone was really excited about seeing the final. Both teams played really well and the score was very close during the match. It was just one minute before the end and both teams had 62 points. Then in the last second of the game, my brother's friend scored three points and we won! It was the best match I've ever been to!

3 In June it was my grandma's birthday. She was 70 years old, so my mum organised a big party for her. All my family was there, my aunts and uncles and my cousins. We had a big family meal together, and everyone bought presents for my grandma. It was fun!

2 Possible answers

Ben might like the bottom activity because he wants an activity outside. Max might also like this activity because he enjoys outdoor activities and he wants an activity for a lot of friends, and I think they could all do this. Elsie might like the dancing because that would be fun with twelve friends. Amy might like to make chocolates because she wants an indoor activity and she wants to have something to take home with her, so some chocolates would be perfect. Tom might like the chocolate making too, because it's indoors and he wants a snack afterwards – chocolate is a good snack!

3 Ben: twenty friends, Saturday afternoon, outside, competing, food

Elsie: evening, twelve friends, not expensive, no meal, get there by bus

Tom: indoor, Saturday afternoon, ten friends plus younger brothers, snack, present for each guest

Amy: indoor, seven people, Saturday evening, something to take home, no food

Max: Saturday morning, twenty-five friends, outdoors, food, entertainment while eating

1 It will be outside, in a forest.

2 We will go paintballing for two hours, and then have a meal together.

3 I will invite 11 friends, so that makes 12 with me, so we can have three teams for the paintballing.

4 We will have burgers and chips, and cheesecake for dessert.

5 There will be a big chocolate birthday cake. There will be prizes for the winning team – maybe T-shirts with 'Champion' on them! Everyone will get a photo of themselves with their helmet and paintball gun.

1 Festivals bring people in a town or city together, so they can meet each other and make friends. Festivals are fun, so they also make people feel happy, which is important. They can encourage tourists to visit the town or city, and they will spend money, which is good for the town.

2 I would like to have a big music festival in my town because I love music and we don't often have concerts in my town. I would love to have lots of different kinds of music at the festival, and maybe some famous bands and singers.
